

Case Study: Hello Soda

Hello Soda unlock the valuable information contained inside unstructured data to help connect consumers to business services in the digital world

The Challenge

Hello Soda specialises in providing advanced text analytics software solutions to customers across six continents meaning it is able to provide a global, 24/7 service to its wide portfolio of customers. With their new premises in Manchester, a modern and corporate environment was intended.

The Brief

The aim was to create a more contemporary style and chilled working environment which incorporated soundproof pods and boardrooms.

Our Solution

Workspace Design and Build delivered a high end corporate space with clever use of existing features and introduction of new fabrics and floor finishes to enhance the space to be more user friendly.
